Children's Clothing.

66] HAD rather sew up three suits than to rip up one like this," remarked a mother who was altering a suit of the Browning-King Clothing to fit a younger son, the larger one having outgrown it without wearing it out.

"Why so?" remarked her caller.

"Because I never saw such well-made garments in all my life."

This remark caused the caller to come to us for a suit for her son, and this is how we are enabled to give the above conversation. It would seem useless for us to add anything to strengthen such testimony. We can't add anything to strengthen such clothingelse we would do it.

Notice!! To Whom It May Concern.

The rapid manner in which lots are being sold at Oak Hill Place has prompted us to establish an office on the ground for the convenience of purchasers. The terms upon which the lots are sold, being only $00 cash and $10 per month, give every one an opportunity to secure a home site or a real estate investment where property is bound to rapidly increase in value. Oak Hill Place is located on the south side of Tower Grove Park, midway between Grand Avenue and King's Highway; the Pine Street Electric Cars go direct to the property every three minutes. The prices placed on the property range from $10 to $16 per foot, and as it is high, healthy, well drained and contiguous to city water and electric lights, it is unquestionably the cheapest and best property in the city for the money.

Our branch office is located on the northwest corner of Arsenal Street and Morgan Ford Road (Arsenal Street is the southern boundary line of Tower Grove Park and the street on which the Pine Street Electric Cars run), where our representative can be found every day until September 1, from 10 a. m. to 6:30 o'clock p. m.

Minister Mizner's Telegram

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 29. -Acting Sec etary Wharton to-day received a telegram Minister Ryan at Mexico City, dated the 28th

"Went again to Acajulata in Salvador on Monday with three of the diplomatic corps. Met Provisional President with several hundred leading men of the Republic. Basis of peace explained, slightly modified, accepted and signed by Gen. Ezeta. Returned here (Guatemala) yesterday afternoon, when Guatemala also accepted and signed. Both parties have been officially notified to retire their armies in forty-eight hours and to reduce them to peace footing in eight days. This territory. establishes peace in Central America." Acting Secretary Wharton said he regarded this as a satisfactory settlement of the trouble.

Does Not Believe It.

CITY OF MEXICO, Aug. 29.—Geronime Pou,

The Republican State Convention was concluded before 8 o'clock last evening after a rather exciting session. The nominees are Alexander W. Mullins of Linn County for Supreme Judge; James K. Merrifield of Sedalia, Ralivoad and Warehouse Commissioner; and Frank P. Seever of Newton County, Superintendent of Fubile Instruction.

The animated feature of the State gathering of Republicans was furnished by the colored delegates, when they demanded at the hands of the convention the indoresment of the Federal election bill.

As was stated the colored delegates held a meeting after the noon recess was taken and decided to request the convention to insert a plank in the platform deciaring it to be the sentiment of the Republicans of Missouri that the bill should become a law. The demand proved to be a fire-brand and kept the delegates in an uproar for over an hour. At the meeting of the colored delegates N. C. Crews of Kansas City was delegated to present the resolution and make the argument for its adoption.

As soon as the platform prepared by Matt G. Reynolds' committee was adopted the resolution was read as follows:

Whereas, There has been a bill presented and passed the lower house of Congress, known as the Lodge or Federal election bill, which we believe, if concurred in by the Senate, will guarantee honest election bill, and urge the Senate to its immediate passage.

At drat the Convention seemed disposed to cluded before 8 o'clock last evening after a Resolved. That we heartly indorse the Federal election bill, and urge the Senate to its immediate passage.

At first the Convention seemed disposed to swallow the resolution, particularly after W. W. Morgan of Kansas City, Odin Guitar of Boone and Representative Jim Moore had had made impassioned speeches favoring its adoption. They depicted, in blood-curdling terms, the condition of the negroes in the South and said the Republican party owed it to the race it had emancipated to place the elections under such restrictions as to permit them to vote and have their ballots counted.

S. H. Boyd of Springfield opposed the resolution strongly, as did J. W. Fuerbach of St. Louis and J. H. Bothweil of Sedalia. Chairman McGinnis, Matt G. Reynolds, Boss Filley and other leaders did not want the resolution adopted and viewed with some alarm the sentiment shown by the convention after Guitar's address. The discussion was allowed to run on until a plan presented itself to get around the demand of the colored delegates. A substitute for the resolution was adopted, declaring that the Republicans of Missouri favored such legislation as would secure honest elections in all sections of the United States.

"De ole man" sat behind Chairman McGinnis on the plastform all the time the convention in steering around the resolution.

THE BOSS TICKET HEATEN.

Though Filicy was re-elected Chairman of the State Committee by the convention without opposition, he did not have his way in all things, according to the silk stocking view. He wanted Hall for Supreme Judge and Headies for Railroad Commissioner, and both were defeated. At a conference held at his residence Tuesday evaning last he said shas both should be nominanted. This statement was made by a prominent Republican who claims to have been present.

Matt G. Reynolds was elated at the unanimity of the convention in the adoption of the resolutions. He was chairman of that committee, and wrote a very strong indorsement of the Federal administration throughout, which was adopted. It was a bitter dose for the "Boss" and his henchmen who were largely represented in the Eighth, Ninth and Teath District delegations, but they awallowed it without a murmur.

The new State Committee is composed of four members at large and two from each congressional district. The at-large members are James T. Beach of St. Joseph, J. H. Pelham, colored, of Hannibal, J. H. Harris of Kansas City and T. B. Hounnought of Carthage. The district members are:

First District—John H. Glesson of Marion County, J. R. Musick of Adair.

The managers of the Garland-Clifton-Coghlan-Nolan combination of the Union Labor party have from all accounts been having an interesting time of it of late. Reports of their Interesting time of it of late. Reports of their doings in Jefferson City and in the Cherokee Hotel on Sixth and Market street, where they had their head-quarters up to a few days ago, are dying about thick and fast. One of these, which appears to be well founded, shows that two of the leaders of this wing of the labor organization were made the victims of a practical joke which has aroused their fre to such an extent that the joker will certainly fare badly if he should happen to fall into their hands. The story as it is told by those who claim to bare witnessed the labor leaders in the plight the practical joker left them is substantially as follows: The two came down from Jefferson City last Tuesday morning after participating in the convention held there Monday and they were fatigued, and as it was raining heavily they concluded to go up to room No. 4 in the Cherokee Hotel, where they had established their headquarters instead of going to their homes. They got a couple of pillows and stretched and as it was raining heavily they concluded to go up to room No. 4 in the Cherokee Hotel, where they had established their headquarters instead of going to their homes. They got a couple of pillows and stretched their tired forms out on the floor to take a much needed rest and they slept soundly and did not hear the entrance of the intruder who came with a brush and paint pot and a determination to have some fun at the expense of the Labor party representatives. While they slept the humorously inclined artist painted their faces in a most grotseque fashion making them look even wilder than the wild man from Borneo. They slept on and when they did finally awaken the paint had become thoroughly dry. They slept until late in the afternoon, when they were aroused by an outburst of boisterous isughter. Looking up they saw the door wide open and a half dozen or more of the lodgers laughing as though their sides would collapse. The victims of the jose thought at first, they afterwards explained, that they had wandered into a lunatic asylum, but when they looked on a chair near them they saw a piece of board bearing the legend 'houses labor' painted in big black leiters and this board was exposed to the view of the crowd in the hall and the startled labor leaders theught it was the amouncement on the board that had evoked their mirth. They threw the board out of the door and startsdeau to the piece. They might have passed down on the street, free-coed as they were, if the hotel clerk had not intercepted them. They were given a mirror and asked to look at themselves for an explanation as to why they had been stopped. They were wild with indignation and vowed that they would never rest easy until they discovered the perpetrator of the joke.

State Democratic Committee Meeting.

State Democratic Committee Meeting. The State Democratic Committee will hold an important meeting to-morrow morning at The object of the meeting is to fix the day for the opening of the campaign and to decide what plan is the best for its management. The committee has viven much time to a discussion of the matter at its meetings since the St. Joseph Convention. The Committee decided at its last meeting to postpone the arrangements for the campaign opening until to-morrow. The committee thought nothing would be lost by waiting to see the result of the Republican State Convention, and that was one of the reasons for the postponement. Treasurer Brown will be on hand ready to receive contributions from the candidates, three of whom are expected to be present. The candidates will not be assessed, but will be expected of course, to contribute to defray the expenses of the canvass. Chairman Moffitt has been absent in Washington for some time, but is expected to preside at the meeting to-morrow.

Carondelet Republicans Divided. The Thirteenth Ward bids fair to have con testing delegations in the Tenth District Republican Congressional Convention, which meets Monday morning at DeSoto. Last ever ing a meeting was called by Dr. M. C. Starkleft, who holds the proxy of Congressional Committeeman John Krauss, and was fairly attended. The Kinsey men, it appears, had matters their own way, and selected a delegation made up of Dr. Starkloff, J. W. Lanley, Harry Dennis, Chas. W. Hoffmelster, A. T. Philley, John Beckert and

the race for the Ninth District Congressional nomination, said to day that he could not think for a minute of accepting the nomination. "I am mindful of the fact that it would be an honor to represent such an important district in Congress," he said, "but my business interests are such that I could not afford to participate in any cambaign or spare the time it would necessarily take if elected." The same gentiemen who have asked Mr. Nelson to run will it is understood try to prevail upon Aug. B. After Office-Holding Committeemen, At the meeting of the Nineteenth Ward offered a resolution which in effect asks the Mayor to compel all office-holding members of the City Central Committee and Congressional Committees to withdraw from the political organizations or quit the city's employ. The author of the resolution explained that the author of the resolution explained that the author of the resolution explained that would attend to the execution of its provisions, would benefit the city and the Democratic party to an extent that would be greatly appreciated. The resolution was discussed the greater part of the meeting and then laid over until next Thursday evening, when Mr. Snyder hopes it will be adopted.

It made him feel in a very happy mood. He is said to have remarked after the resolutions were adopted that he had made it quite clear why he had run as a delegate on the same ticket with the "Boss."

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 29.-The resolution luced in the Senate to-day by Mr. Edmunds, providing for a recess of Congress from September 19 to November 10, was suggested by the recent discussion of the possility and of the political necessity of helding a special session of Congress to get the work of the Senate under way so that the Federal ections bill may be passed before March 4. sultation with the leaders of the Republican party action or agreement. Some Republican come to a vote. Democratic Senators say that this proposition is a violation of the agreement under shich the tariff bill is now being hurried through the Senate, which was that the Federal elections bill should not be congress should take a recess till November 10 donday in December would be included in the first session of the Fifty-first Congress and any attempt to bring the elections bill up at that time or to bring about a change in the rules under which the elections billwill be disposed of would be regarded by some at least of the agreement recently made. Senator Hoar, who anxious that it shall be passed, said to a re-Mr. Edmunds' resolution, and only knew by bearsay what it contained. He said he was in favor of a meeting of Congress on November 10 for the transaction of public business. To take a recess or to call a special session would bring about nearly the same result, but he thought perhaps it would be accomplished better by a special session.

HIFTY-FIRST CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 29.-Mr. Blair presented a memorial of the Woman's Na-tional Industrial League for the suppression and punishment of the "armed assassins known as Pinkerton detectives." Referred to the Indiciary Committee.

Mr. Edmunds offered the following concurrent resolution, which went over for the present:

Resolved, That when the two houses adjourn on the 19th of September, 1890, it be to meet on the 19th of November, 1890.
House bill authorizing the erection of a pontoon bridge across the Missouri River between the city of St. Charles and the county of St. Louis in Missouri, was reported by Mr. Vest and was passed without amendment.
The tarif oill was taken up at 10:20, the pending question being on the Finance Committee's amendment to paragraph 307, page 66 (which taxes salt in bags and packages 12 cents per 100 pounds and sait in bulk 8 cents), the amendment being to strike out the provise allowing the drawbacks on sait used in exported meats. Mr. McPherson moved to strike out the ention escape.

Mr. Hoar asked whether Mr. Benton had not made that speech about the same time that he had made another speech declaring that Oregon and the whole of the Pacific Territories Mr. Reagan remarked that Mr. Webster had eration of the other side of the canadary, that "Prophecy is not an exact science."

Mr. Blair asked Mr. Colquitt as to the price of sait when Mr. Benton made that speech.

Mr. Colquitt was not able to give that information, but promised to make the examination if it would have any sort of influence os Mr. Blair saction.

Mr. Blair was under the impression that the present price of sait under the operation of the tariff laws was about one-twenty-fifth of what it was in Mr. Benton's day. The vote was taken and Mr. McPherson's amendment was rejected—yeas. It; nays, 29; a party vote.

Mr. Vest inquired of the Finance Committee why the provisc was to be struck out—why the export meat business was to be discriminated against.

Mr. Sherman did not consider the matter material, inasmuch as there was a general provision in the bill allowing the drawback of duties paid on all exportations.

Mr. Vest said that that provision required an identification of the material on which duties were paid and how, he asked, could the sait used in preserving meats be identified?

Mr. Aldrich said that there had been a the sait used in preserving meats be identified?

Air. Aldrich said that there had been a division in the Finance Committee as to the propriety of the amendment, but a majority had been in favor of it.

Mr. Vest asked why, if Mr. Sherman's construction were correct, the general provision would not apply to fish, and why a discrimination had been made in favor of fish and against the pork packers and the beef packers of the United States?

Mr. Allison said he had voted in committee against putting sait on the free list, because sait was now as low as to could be. He understood that at the Michigan Sait Works sait was sold at 42 cents a barrei (including the barrei), which was about 20 cents for 208 pounds of sait. He had voted in committee against striking out the provision because he believed with Mr. Vest that the general provision in regard to drawbacks (see. 24) would not apply to sait. He hoped that that section would be reached before debate was closed, so that it might be discussed and a comparison of views ascertained as to whether that section was wise legislation. He had his doubts about it.

One train stalled in the middle of the tunnel. Another followed it and a third following that become ing unmanageable on the down grade towar the center, ran upon the second train, which in turn ran into the first and a general smashup, in which the trains were involved, was the result. The cars of both the middle and front trains were badly wrecked and while no one was seriously hurt, the passengers were badly shaken up. For a few moments there were scenes of the wildest panic imaginable. Some women screamed and fainted, while others jumped off the cars, dragging their children with them and precipitating themselves upon the dimly lighted tracks on which the west-bound cars run. Order, however, was finally restored and traffic resumed.

Smothered Her Grandchild.

BELLIR, Md., Aug. 29.—The Coroner's jury yesterday rendered a verdiet helding Mrs. L. V. Bay and her daughter, Alice M. Bay, on the charge of infanticide. The evidence was that Alice gave birth to a child last Sunday and that shortly afterward the child was found under the mother's pillow. One of the physicians attempted to take the child from its hiding place, whet the mother caused him to desist, and the bale was smothered before being released. The mother is in a very critical condition.

Notice!! To Whom It May Concern.

The rapid manner in which lots are being sold at Oak Hill Place has prompted us to establish an office on the ground, for the convenience of purchasers. The terms upon which the lots are sold, being only $50 cash and $10 per month, give every one an opportunity to secure a home site, or a real estate investment, where property is bound to rapidly increase in value. Oak Hill Place is located on the south side of Tower Grove Park, midway between Grand avenue and King's highway; the Pine Street Electric Cars go direct to the property every three minutes. The prices placed on the property range from $10 to $16 per foot, and as it is high, healthy, well drained and contiguous to city water and electric lights it is unquestionably the cheapest and best property in the city for the money.

Our branch office is located on the northwest corner of Arsenal Street and Morgan Ford Road (Arsenal Street is the southern boundary line of Tower Grove Park and the street on which the Pine Street Electric Cars run), where our representative can be found every day until September 1, from 10 a. m. to 6:30 o'clock p. m.

CRABTREE CAPTURED.

The Negro Who Shot Officer Louis Wilmer Shortly after I o'clock this morning Marshal Upshaw and Constable Sprague of Dent County, Missouri, arrested Louis Crabtreejat

the home of a relative near Salem and placed him in the town lock-up, to await the action of the St. Louis authorities. Crabtree is wanted in this city for the shooting of Pollee Officer Louis A. Wilmer of the Fifth District.

The prisoner had borne the officer a grudge on account of the latter's interference in a tamily row. On the evening of last Monday Wilmer met the man in the Frisco yards near Tower Grove Station and arrested him on the charge of carrying concealed weapons. Orabtree resisted while being searched and pushed the officer away. Wilmer pursued him down the tracks and was fast overtaking the fugitive when Crabtree turned and shot him in the side with a 4-caliber revolver, two of which he drew from his breast. Wilmer fail but fired three shots at Crabtree as he lay on the ground. Crabtree boarded an outgoing freight train which passed a few minutes later and sevent of the amail stations on the Frisco line west and several members of the headquarters detective force made a thorough search of the entire city. It was known that Crabtree had a number of relatives in Sullivan and Dent Counties, and Detective Viehle has been in the former county for two days. Early last evening it was learned that the man had been seen in the vicinity of Salem, and the authorities at that point were wired to arrest him at all hazards. At 2 o'clock an answer came from Marshal Upshaw that Crabtree had been taken and Capt. Campbell left on the first train to Dring him back to the city. Crabtree was employed by the Frisco Co. at the time of the shooting, but the officials of that road have rendered the police invaluable assistance in apprehending the figitive.

Wilmer is still in a dangerous condition, with hat slight hopes for his recovery. Early this morning he was romoved from his home on Manchester road to St. Luke's hooting, but the officials of that road have rendered the police invaluable assistance in apprehending the figitive.

A large number of employers have consented to give their employers a holiday Monday that they may participate in the parade, while some have refused. The request of the Box-makers' Union for a "shut down" was returned by one employer inclosed in a blank sheet of his letter paper. All other box factories had agreed to let the men off for a day. I Machine Wood-Workers' Union No. 2 (Tormerly known as Machine Hands' Union No. 1) at its last meeting resolved to request all employers of wachine hands to give them a holiday Monday. Assurances have been received from many firms and preparations all employers of machine hands to give them a holiday Monday. Assurances have been received from many firms and preparations for participation in the parade are under way. The tailors, the painters and decorators and one or two of the carpenters' unions are making great preparations with a view of competing for the prize, a silver water pitcher, that will be given to the union maging the best appearance.

The column will start promptly at 1 o'clock, Marshal De Vaux having said he will move at that time if there is only one band to follow him.

REAL ESTATE NEWS.

The Street Railway Extension Double Wha Mr. Cooley Represented It.

The report of Special Agent Mr. Charles H Cooley on the street railways of various leading cities of the country, to which reference was made in last evening's POST-DISPATCH, credits St. Louis with having eighty-five miles of track in 1880 and an increase since then to 119 miles-whereas Mr. James Camp bell's statistics establish the fact that St. Louis bell's statistics establish the fact that St. Louis has 216.41 miles, every inch of which, with the exception of eighteen miles of narrow gauge road out to Florissant, is within the closely defined city limits. While Mr. Cooley's report would indicate that St. Louis has only extended its street railway systems thirty four miles, there is abundant evidence, if one cares to look for it, that this city has added sixty-two miles to its railway tracks within the past ten years, and every foot of the addition has been made inside of the city limits. Mr. Cooley also says that among the cities using electric power St. Louis has but one line operated by such a system whereas it is well known that the Union Depot lines, and a very considerable portion of the Lindell Railway Co.'s lines are using electric systems with great satisfaction to the public.

When it comes to cable roads the Government statistican says St. Louis has 21 miles of that system. Now the People's line has 10 miles of cable, the Cable & Western Locus street line, 8 miles; the Missouri, out Olive street, 9 miles, and the Citizons', on Easton avenue, 21 miles, making a total 48 miles of cable roads all within the corporate limits of the city of St. Louis, Philadelphia is reported first in the number of mileage, Boston second, Chicago third, New York fourth and then comes St. Louis, according to Uncle Sam's enumerator.

AT AUCTION!

The Prettiest Subdivision in the West End.

Located on the west side of Marcus avenue, four blocks north of Easton avenue, it is surrounded on all sides by beautiful shade trees and the pretty villas of wealthy citizens. Marcus avenue is one of the most beautiful streets in the West End, and being traversed by the extension of the Easton avenue cable, it is within twenty-five minutes of Fourth street. Gas, water and sewers are now constructed on Marcus avenue and can be connected with any lot in Woodward Place at small cost. All this locality is rapidly advancing in value, and the this locality is rapidly advancing in value, and the sale, which takes place on the premises, on

HAMMETT-ANDERSON-WADE REAL ESTATE CO.

Notice!! To Whom It May Concern.

The rapid manner in which lots are being sold at Oak Hill Place has prompted us to establish an office on the grounds for the convenience of purchasers. The terms upon which the lots are sold, being only $50 cash and $10 per month, give every one an opportunity to secure a home site, or a real estate investment, where property is bound to rapidly increase in value. Oak Hill Place is located on the south side of Tower Grove Park, midway between Grand avenue and Kinz's highway; the Pine Street Electric Cars go direct to the property every three minutes. The prices placed on the property range from $10 to $16 per foot, and as it is high, healthy, well drained and contiguous to city water and electric lights, it is unquestionably the cheapest and best property in the city for the money.

Our branch office is located on the northwest corner of Arsenal Street and Morgan Ford Road (Arsenal Street is the southern boundary line of Tower Grove Park and the street on which the Pine Street Electric Cars run, where our representative can be found every day until September 1, from 10 a. m. to 6:30 p. m.

ing papers raises a presumption of "faking" against the Western Associated Press. The padded dispatch of this morning, dated Paris, August 28, does not add one single bit of information to the brief announcement made two days earlier.

SECRETARY TRACY and Gen. SCHOPIELD are to make a tour of the lakes in the interest of a great fortification scheme for the depletion of the Treasury. Freer commerce between the United States and Canada is the best fortification we can have on our Northern boundary, and the only one we need. Better spend fifty millions in improving our water outlets than one million on forts.

THE Republican State Convention refused to indorse the Lodge election bill, but adopted a resolution demanding of Congress some sort of Federal election measure. Even in this weak-kneed indorsement the Missouri Republicans are out of line with the best element of the party. They have merely put themselves upon record as favoring a measure which is not only dead, but it is under everlasting condemnation.

HALSTEAD figures out a great Republican victory in 1892 by assuming that the Democratic majority in the next House will be so large that the Democrats wil make as big fools of themselves as the Republicans have in the present House and so alarm and disgust the country that the force bill, the gag-rule and the Mc-Kinley monstrosity will be forgotten. A long separation from FORAKER has nearly restored Halstead's mental balance.

THE report of the Subcommittee on Franchise in the Mississippi Convention favors an educational or a property qualification. It favors also the adoption of the Australian ballot system in any event. This system will operate in large measure as a preventive of the voting of ignorant citizens in blocks by bosses of either party. With it in operation, it is doubtful if the white Mississippians need any franchise qualification for their protection.

ABOUT the most positive and oftrepeated promise of the Republican organs and campaigners in Missouri two years ago was that a Republican victory should bring into our State Treasury from the Federal Treasury enough money on account of direct war taxes refunded to almost wipe out our State debt and greatly reduce our taxes. Now the same authorities tell us that the promised restltution, though just and proper, would be very inexpedient at this time. They evidently think they can make it work well in another campaign.

THE Republican State Convention got up a typical "harmony" platform. It voted down a resolution indorsing the quorum of school directors yesterday was force bill, but appeased the advocates of that monstrosity by adopting a resolution favoring "a national election law for the "purpose of securing a free and fair is going to do was indorsed in terms vague enough to suit any emergency, but with saving clauses broad enough to the cover all possible disappointments. The present national administration was inwindward in the shape of a particular indorsement of "the suggestions of the eminent statesman James G. Blaine," which some people may consider a rather severe censure of the administration as a whole. Nothing is said about the Mc-Kinley bill, but it is impliedly condemned is said against the fostering of monopolies, combines and trusts. It will strike most readers as the platform, of a party "on the run."

A Troublesome Baniling

From the Philadelphia Record.

The Boston Herald asks the Republican party why it doesn't abandon the force bill infant. If the old party could get some confiding soul to "please hold the baby for five minutes," how gladly it would skip out of the lepot and not return until the train had left!

THE PEOPLE'S FORUM.

IN THE ALLEGHENY WORK, HOUSE. A Full Cousin of Sir Lionel Sackville-West Arrested for Being Drank.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 29.-Dr. John Sackille, said to be a full cousin of Sir Lionel Sackville-West, the late English Minister to this country, is now in the Allegheny County Work-house serving a twenty days' term for being drunk and disorderly. Dr. Sackville lived at Washington, Pa. He came to Pitts burg last week to have a good time and sue ourg last week to have a good time and succeeded in being arrested three different times. Twice he paid fines, but the third time he had no money and was sent to the Work-house. There came to Washington, Pa., twenty-one years ago last spring, a man evidently in greatly reduced circumstances, but bearing every indication of being a person of education and refinement. He gave his name as Dr. John Sackville, and, with the exception of his statement that he

a person of education and refinement. He gave his name as Dr. John Sackville, and, with the exception of his statement that he was a citizes of England, this was all that was known of him. Dr. Sackville began the practice of medicine, and, in spite of the mystery surrounding him, built up a large practice. Several years later Dr. Sackville married Anne Vester, who was many years his junior. Six children have been born to them. From the time of his marriage until 1888 Dr. Sackville's life was uneventful. He wont quietly along attending to his practice, which would have been highly lucrative had his bills been properly collected. A remarkable change came over him surly in 1888. He began drinking heavily, and in addition his mind seemed to be giving away. He sank rapidly from the position of a successful period of his life Dr. Sackville never reterred to his aristocratic English connections, and only has species of them one of them was easily the principle. life Dr. Sackwills never referred to his aristo-cratic English connections, and only has spoken of them vaguely when in his cups during the past two years. CLEVELAND, O. , Aug. 29 .- For a month past a strikingly handsome man and woman, with two little boys, have been living in a rented room at 9 Granger street. They gave the names of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. M. Sanborn, and the man obtained employment in a book store. Tuesday J. T. Ricks, a wealthy find his runaway wife and two children whom he had traced to this city in company with a Congregational minister named Santorn. Hicks says that Sanborn went to Eureka early in 1889, was appointed pastor of the Congregational society, built a fine new church and was very popular. Four months ago Mrs. Ricks started for Reno to visit friends, taking the children with her. About the same time Sanborn left for a vacation. Then Ricks heard that his wife had eloned with Sanborn and that without his knowledge she had procured what she thought was a divorce. The couple were found without trouble. Ricks wanted to kill Sanborn but was restrained. Mrs. Ricks finally surrendered the children, signed off her rights to property and received $200 in cash from Ricks. The inter offered to forgive her and take her home, but she refused. Sanborn and Mrs. Ricks left for the East yesterdsy. He has been negotiating for a pastorate in Massachusetts.

The Cruel Treatment of an Insane Son by a l'ennsylvania Farmer.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29 .- Dr. Henry M. Wethrell, Secretary of State Committee on Lunacy of the Board of Public Charities, has ust returned from a visit to the western part of the State during which, near Franklin, Venago County, he discovered a revolting case of cruel treatment by a father of his crazy case of cruel treatment by a father of his crazy son. He found a haggard, emaciated, pale-faced man, with thin beard and unkempt hair, covered by a grimy remnant of a woman's calico skirt in the house of a farmer named Young. Fastened about his waist next to the skin, was a thick leather belt, to which was attached a strong iron chain about eight feet long, held by a staple driven in the window-casing. The unfortunate was George Young, 28 years cid. Beneath the window was a hard wooden settee, his only bed. The floor was worn in grooves, about which the poor fellow daily walked his weary way. Since his lith year he had been so confined. When 2 years old he was soized with acute pneumonia, and his mind became hopelessly shattered. The unfortunate man was taken in charge by the authorities.

THE UNION VETERAN LEGION TO BAR OUT MANY G. A. R. MEN.

The New Organization Which Is Now Exciting Much Interest Among Old Soldiers The National Headquarters in St. Louis-Te'ls Why the Legion Was Organized.

relative to the alleged rivalry between the Union Veteran Legion and the public. The reports of a rivalry were apparently circulated by members of the G. A. R. who perhaps, were not eligible to membership. Recently the Boston papers were full of the matter, and published interviews with officers of the G. A. R. giving their views on the other in St. Louis, and Dr. J. S. Read of 1518 Chouteau avenue is the National Commander. The headquarters are located at Seventeenth and Dreifus is Adjutant-General of the Legion. of the order and extend the influence of the Legion, a circular was sent out from this city a short time ago. The circular gave the reasone for the founding of the order and its plans. In the circular the objects of the association were stated in substance as follows: The objects of the new association are: The cultivation of true devotion to American government and institutions; the moral, social and intellectual improvement of its members and their relief, and the relief of their widows and orphans in sickness and distress; the preservation of triendly relations among those who fought for the safety of the American Union; by the personal example and influence of its members to perpetuate the three great principles of fraternity, charity and patriotism, and to promote the interests of humanity; and, all interests being equal, to give preference to its members in all business relations, and to assist them, as far as possible, in all honorable ways.

These ideas follow closely the objects of all veteran associations, whether national or regimental, but it is in the membership that the Union Veteran Legion differs essentially from other associations. Those eligible to membership are: Officers, soldiers, sailors and marines of the Union army, navy and marine corps during the war of the rebellion, who volunteered prior to July 1, 1883, for a term of three years and were honorably discharged for any cause after a service of at least two consinuous years, or were at any time discharged by reason of wounds received in the line of duty; but no drafted person, nor substitute, nor any one who has at any time borne arms against the United States is eligible. One exception is made to cover cases of a large number of two-year regiments in New York and several other States, that were mustered into the service of the United States prior to July 23, 1861, and therefore this clause appears as parenthetical to the above article quoted from the constitution of the association: "Excepting those who voluntered for a term of two years prior to July 23, 1861, and served their full term of enlistment, unless discharged for wounds received in the line of duty."

Mr. Tilisetti of Boston explains the reasons for the founding of the order as follows:

"For a long time many G. A. R. men who volunteered party in the war and served three sons for the founding of the order as follows:

"For a long time many G. A. R. men who volunteered early in the war and served three or four years had been dissatisfied with the proceedings of the organization. They felt that their long service entitled them to a better representation than they were enjoying, and many stayed away from all meetings of the organization. Their main cause of dis-these," said Mr. Finsetti, "bred discord, and soon some three year soldiers began to talk among themselves of forming an association from which the three months' man and the soldier who received bounty should be excluded."

The organization was started and was soon in a flourishing condition. There are now seventy-one encampments, with more in the process of formation. The total membership is about $6,000.

Dr. Read, the National Commander, was seen this morning by a Post-Disparch reporter, and was shown the following clipping from a Boston newspaper:

Capt. Richard F. Tobin, National Senior Vice-

porter, and was shown the following clipping from a Boston newspaper:

Capt. Richard F. Tobin, National Senior Vice-Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army, was asked for his opinion of the movement, and said that the formation of such an encampment was news to him. "It will not affect the Grand Army posts at all," said Mr. Tobin. "I doubt if one of the men whe join the new organization will leave ine G. A. R. It is my impression that the formation of this ascelation is large of the series of the said of the series of the ranks after they were offered large bountles or who were drafted. Why, I even know of cases where men ware convicted of some felony they were given the option of joining the army or going to the penitentiary. Of course they joined the army. They are now eligible to membership in the G. A. R. because they have an honorable discharge.

"Then there are the deserters. Look at the thousands of them who deserted and who took advantage of President Lincoin's ammesty to go back into the army. When they were mustered out they were given honorable discharges. Then there are those who deserted but afferwards enlisted again and were discharged under an assumed name. Prominent friends got Congress to-change the names on the discharges, as that at present the records stand clear of any stain.

"Those are not the class of men who can become members of our order. We want those who went to fight for their country without any hope of pay or remnueration—the true soldiers, the particile citizens who suffered loss because of their devotion to their country.

"The majority of our members have been suffered loss because of their devotion to their country.

'The majority of our members have been wounded, some of them a number of times. In our Washington post there are about twenty who have lost legs or arms, and,' with a laugh, 'we are thinking of making a requisition on the commissary department for a new supply. Then, again, we have the best lot of men physically. Those hospital bums, those who would got sent to the rear during an engagement because of alleged sickness, those who occupied safe positions in the commissary department, set, they are a different class of men and can not belong to our order.

the brave and intellectual men. They are now the men who retain their health. In our encampment we have not had a death in three years.

"The per diem pension bill, which was indersed by the G. A. R. at the Boston Encampment, is our plan and we have been working at it for years. Every deserving man who fought in the army and was disabled a entitled to a pension, but what do you think of a man who suffers slightly from a common complaint to apply for a pension on the grounds that he acquired the complaint twenty-five years ago by taking a drink of cold water when he was very warm? What do you think of men who, at a ripe age, when nearly every citizen of his age is generally afflicted with rhounatism, should try to trace back the cause of the disease a quarter of a century ago? I think that the sacouragement of such things is apt to make perjurers and hars of men who were once solders true, tried and trusted. When a man asks for my indorsement of a pension claim on such grounds I generally discourage him, in presty short order, too.

"We are not rivals of the Grand Army, but to the contrary, we work together and our interests are mutual. Every officer of Frank P. Blair Post is a member of our encampment, which is No. 16. The man who was commander of Encampment, No. 16 of the U. V. L. We work in perfect harmony, but the men who can join the ranks of the G. A. R. are not all eligible to membership in our order are only about $3 a year, and it is not any more expensive than the G. A. R., if as much.

"We have as the insignia of our order a shield which is emblematic of the soldier. The button as worn by the G. A. R., is meaningless and may be worn by a commissary clerk or any one else. It has no meaning but the shield has. Our national badge or coat of arms is something similar to the G. A. R.

"No, sir, there is no controversy between the Legion and the G. A. R."

A LITTLE GIRL'S BRAVE ACT.

Constance Ivory Griffin Rescued From A very dangerous and almost fatal accident occurred yesterday afternoon at Forest Park, and one which developed a little heroine in St. Louis. A little girl, 9 years of age, saved Constance Ivory Griffin had gone with a party of children under the charge of Mrs. M. Andre Bowles to Forest Park on a pleasure trip. About 30 clock the little girl, who is very fond of flowers, was on the top a high embankment overlooking the most dangerous part of the river past the Sixth bridge. Whilst stooping to pluck a golden rod, the child lost her balance and was precipitated with violence down the embankment and into the river, her head first striking the water. She immediately sank. Some children near by, soeing her danger, called for help; but like a flash little Fidelia Bowles, the 10-year-old little daughter of Mr. M. Andre Bowles, the well-known commission merchant, sprang down the embankment and into the river, catching the drowning child as she rose to the surface and holding herself to an overhanging twig. She threw her arm about the waist of the child, who had fainted and lay a dead weight in her arms, the burden being great, as the almost lifeless child is large for her age and the little rescuer is a very small child. She clung bravely to her, however, keeping the head above water and whispering words of encouragement all the time. Some children near by called loudly for help, and a gentiman and some ladles passing by heard the soreams. The gentleman saw the danger and fortunately had a rope in the carriage which he threw to the little saver, who managed with one hand to fasten the rope about the waist of the little girl she supported, holding on to the twig at the same time. The child was drawn to safety and then the little herolne was conveyed to the shore. At first they supposed the child she saved was dead, but she was placed immediately under the ostrictest care and resuccitated. Several ladies wrapped her if carriage blankets, applied saits and other restoratives and wine was poured down her throat as stimulative. She was with great difficulty restored to consciousness, though she continued and is still very weak. The little herolne who saved her of her own had a regular triumphal marc Constance Ivory Griffin had gone with a party of children under the charge of Mrs. M. "In that," continued Mr. Dodge, "the management is starting out to complete what they very nearly accomplished doing for the su burban patronage. Not because the electrie display of last season was a failure, for it was very good indeed, but the trouble was the absence of anyone to explain its interesting mysteries except at night. During the daytime the display was dead, without a sugges-tion that such a novelty could be seen there as any time. and for that reason the only attraction that country people or residents of suburban towns cared anything about was Gilmore's Band. Within the circle of my acquaintance I know it is safe to say that there were not half a dozen persons who visited the Exposition last year during the day time who went away satisfied. I would ask them if they went to the Exposition. 'Oh, yes, 'hey would say.' 'Well, how did you like it?' I would inquire. 'Oh, fairly well,' would be their answer. When questioned about going into the Mechanical Department, and if they looked at the electrical display, it was plain to see their disappointment in answering, 'yes, we went there, everything was dead'; nothing was moving.'

"I went myself to inspect the electric display; went is the day time, as most suburban people have to, and got no more entertainment or instruction than other people whom I talked to who had been there during the same hours. Gilmore's Band, of course, was good, and so were the displays of merchandise, textile fabrics, novelties and products of the soil generally, but they were tacking in animation until night time, when the city people began to crowd in.

The show was not kept up at such hours that suburban people could patronize it satisfactorily and get back on evening trains to their homes at night. In the sarly hours of the day they were overrun by children, and later in the afternoon between 4 and 5- o'clock there was a general sweeping out of dust and rubbish and persons who were there had to put up with the annovance as best they could or leave the place. The art display of course drew a large attendance last year, and that feature and the music was about all there was for the country people to enjoy unless they scopped in the most of them did not care to etand, espocially when it keeps them away from their families, and in order to get the patronage of that very large number of people tributary to St. Louis and illinois the Exposition should be maintained on an equal scale of elegance both day and night."

Falvator's Great Performance,

As was stated in yesterday's POST-DISPATCH, Mr. J. B. Haggin's great colt, Salvator, knocked severs! seconds off the mile record at Monmouth Park yesterday, when with 110 pound up he ran the distance in 1:35½. This is 4½ seconds better than Ten Broeck's record and 3½ seconds better than the time made by Raveloe. It was on May 24, 1877, at Louisville, Ky., that Ten Broeck made his great record of a mile in 1:39½. The record was made in a trial against time, the great Kentucky stallion, who was then 5 years of age, carrying 110 pounds. It was the first time a mile was ever run below 1:40 and the record has stood unequaled for over thirteen years. It was beaten finally at the Monmouth Park meeting just closed, when Ravaloe, a 3-year-old colt, in a race ran a mile in 1:39½. On account of the latter record being made on a straight track, where the falling of the flag can be seen with difficulty from the timer's stand, considerable doubt has aiways existed as to its accuracy, for the timers could easily have made a mistake of a half or three-quarters of a second in catching the start. Salvator yesterday knocked so many seconds off the time, however, that there can be no question about the long-standing record of Phaeton's great son having been flusily beaten. But Ten Broeck made his record on an oval track, while Salvator ran yesterday on a straight track, which was a decided advantage in his favor. While this may make a difference of as much as 2, or possibly even 3s., it would scarcely make the great difference of 4½s. Under the circumstances Salvator's performance must be considered the more remarkable. Another thing which makes his performance must be considered the more remarkable. Another thing which makes his performance must be considered the more remarkable. Another thing which makes his performance must be considered and Salina was carrying more weight to a 4-year-old has to concede weight to a 4-year-old, therefore the great on of Prince Charile and Salina was carrying more weight than the Kentucky stallion when the question of age is considered. knocked several seconds off the mile record at Monmouth Park yesterday, when with 110

Namouna started ten lengths ahead of him, but when the half mile post was reached was twenty lengths behind. The first quarter had been traveled in 23% and the half in 47½s. At the half Rosetta set the pace a length in front of Salvator. The latter kept up his wonderful burst of speed and flew by the three-quarters in 1:11%, flushing the nille in 1:35½. His owner received $2,500 for the horse's performance. In the last quarter he was given the whip and spur.

Monmouth Criticised, The racing writer of the New York Tribune, rhaps the most fearless and able turf critic of the day, handles the new Monmouth Park without gloves. He says: "Never has a of the day, handles the new Monmouth Park without gloves. He says: "Never has a race-course in any country been so constant and rich a source of profit to the bookmakers as the new Monmouth Park, with its wonderful straight tracks. It was predicted with the most conspicuous embhasis and assurance that when we had the faultiess and altogether admirable English courses in this country there would be no more strange variations of public form; that horses would no longer be pocked or interfered with; that the best horses would carry off the prizes, and that the public with united voice would join in the hearilest acclaim and approval of the plan of starting horses at Eatontown and running them to Little Sliver, with the contesting animals out of sight of the spectators for nine-tenths of the way, unless these spectators were provided with the most powerful and expensive field-risses in the world. But for some interplicable reason the expected results have not been attained. There are more singular and eccentric variations of form at Monmeuth than ever occured before on any race-track in the world. The great mass of race-goers are more profoundly bewildered daily in the impossibility of getting the least indication how horses will run in the provious races. It may be the second of the provious races. It may be the second of the provious races. It may be the second of the provious races. It may be the second of the provious races. It may be the second of the provious races.

condition of the surfaces of the new tracks at Monmouth may account for some of these wild yagaries, but although there may be soft spots here and there, modulations of consistency and diversities of compactness in the make-up of these tracks, still these ins and outs of the area could not possibly explain all the ins and outs of the running of any large percentage of them. There is no evidence to confirm any cynical and pessimistic dishonest theory that consest at Monmouth than they are at other tracks, but the stoutest of Anglomanicos, after the thorough test which has been given to the Monmouth course during July and the first part of August, can not venture to claim that accidents and mishaps are any less frequent, that peculiarities of running are less marked and amazing, that consistency is any better preserved, that running is any truer, or that racing is any higher or better in any way on the straight track at Monmouth than on the oval course at Brooklyn or at Sheepshead Bay. So much is settled. In truth, all the unfortunate and regrettable elements of racing are even more prevalent and more injurious at Monmouth than on the oval courses mentioned. Mr. Withers may yet have to revise his ideas. Britannia is a wonderful country, and in some turf matters she is still far ahead of the United States, but that the English system of running horses on straight courses will ever become more popular in this republic than the good old American fashlon of oval tracks is anything but plain at present."

er in the New York dailies of last Sunday: Will you permit me to contradict the state ment that is going the rounds of the press that I have offered to match Sunol against Beile Hamilin for $10,000 a side? I have never made any offer of the kind. Mr. Hickok, representing the superintendent of the Palo Alto stock farm, where Sunol was raised, made such an offer, but I knew no more about it, until, after he offered it, than the man in the moon. When I made Senator Stanford an offer for Sunol jast fall he socepted it on condition that I should let her remain with him for one year, to give Mr. Marvin, his trainer, an opportunity to lower her record. So that he owns Sunol's 'racing qualities' for this year, and she is being campaigned with his own horses just as if he still owned her. One paper states that I will make at least $5,000 by Sunol's exhibitions. It is enough for me to say in reply to that statement that I will not make one cent by them. During the last twenty-five years I have cowned many record-breakers, including Dexter, Rarus and Moud S., and, as is well known, I have never allowed any of them to trot for money. ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 29.—Some years ago in a running race at Detroit, Danny Mackin, a jookey, was killed by the horse he was riding making a sudden and vicious boit and hurling his rider to the ground. When the jockey was picked up a stream of blood was running from a hole in his temple down his cheek. A story has been current among jockeys and stable men ever since Macklin's death that his ghost walks at night among race track stables, the quest of the specter being presumably the norse that killed the jockey. This story has always been believed by stable men and if any ever had doubt of it they are dispelled now, for the ghost itself was seen by at least a dozen of them at the Rochester Driving Park stables on Friday night. The midnight watch of stablesmen had come on duty and the men were iounging in front of the stables when one of them saw a silm figure in white approaching the stables from a clump of trees on the grounds. The man called the attention of his companions to the object. They all saw it clearly as it gilded moisessly along the stable. When the apparition came full in the light of the large hanging lamp in front of the stable and revealed the figure clad in jockev garb and a face as white as the clothes yith a red stream running from the right. Apie down, the stablemen were parsiyzed with terror. The specter jockey passed into the stable through the door as if it had been open and disappeared. One of the stablemen was closed, but the ghost kept right on, passed through the door as if it had been open and disappeared. One of the stablemen was closed, but the ghost kept right on, passed through the door as if it had been open and disappeared. One of the stablemen was gain paralyzed by this second vision of the stable with the intention of preventing any such purpose. Two or three of his companions followed him. The apparition glided to and paused at every stall in the stable, turned its face for a moment toward the terror stricken men in the door and disappeared as the specter passed along. The Jockey Davis Dies. CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 29.-A colored jockey, West Side Driving Park late last Wednesday afternoon, died this morning.

Last night, as a party of wheelmen were returning to the clip from a moonlight run to Forest Park, one of their number, Mr. Ea Cardail, was run down and severely injured by a trie of men driving a buggy. The wheelmen were on the right side of the read and were totally ignorant of any danger, when undenly the vehicle was noticed to cross the road at a furious pace, and was deliberately riven into them with the result mentioned. As soon as the boys recovered from their surprise, they remounted and a. L. Jardan largiffs the misuremants near forces Park.

Luckily a police officer was present who took the men prisoners and escorted them back to the scene of the fracas, where the vietim of their outrageous assault was still writining in agony. A buggy was procured and the whole party repaired to the Fitth District Station, where the men were locked up. Cases of this kind have become entirely too dommon of late, and the wholemen have resolved to presseute the road hogs to the bitter end. The wheelmen are endeavoring to locate the ladies and gentlemen who were driving in a surrey and winessed the accident, as they want their aid in bringing the culprits to justice.

"There will be perhaps no department of your exposition so entirely dependent upon the practical knowledge of mea eminent in these lines. Resilzing this so deeply and in compliance with the request of your honorable Vice-President for suggestions from this body, we have, by action of our convention, recommended to your favorable consideration the following appointments:

"Believing that you fully appreciate the prominent part that the various products of horticulture must play in rendering your exposition attractive, beautiful and instructive, we are prompted to speak plainly and advisedly as to the requirements of our case. We assume that the horticultural exhibits will be on a separate and distinct footing, unhampered with any connection that may compet us to play second fiddle to other interests. All exprience in world's fairs and national expositions has proved that any attempt to group horticultural exhibits in one devartment with those of any other branch of agriculture has resulted disastrously for the horticultural interests. The necessary efforts to make of this exhibit a crowning success cannot be secured except upon the plan of a separate, distinct horticultural department. We shall undertake under proper conditions to place in this exposition a comprehensive exhibit of the fruits, trees, plants, flowers, seeds and garden products from the known world, both in the growing state and the matured products as harvested. In short we will undertake to furnish you a complete and mammoth exhibition in itself.

THE CHURCH AND LABOR UNIONS. Important Subjects Discussed by the Lutheran Pasteral Conference. FORT WAYNE, Ind., Aug. 29 .- The pastoral conference of the Lutheran Synod of Mis-souri, Ohio and Indiana is in session here to discuss the relation of the church to labor unions, combines and mutual aid societies. Six of these have been proposed for discussion. The first of these was discussed yestersion. The first of these was discussed yesterday and adopted by a unanimous vote as follows: Combines of employers and unions of employers for the purpose of furthering and protecting the interests of capital and labor are not wrong in themselves. Membership in such unions, however, is sinful if employers or employes seek, as is often the case, to attain their end by sinful means which may be required in their constitutions, or actually resorted to, as for instance, when sinful oaths are required and taken, or when employers or employers are tyrannized.

The sessions of the conference are expected to continue for several days.

COUNCILMEN KICK BECAUSE HE DRAWS FIREMAN'S PAY.

How He Was Appointed and How He Ears His Money-Both Sides of the Story-A Half Holiday on Monday—The Council To-Night—Her Husband Deserted Her-When Did It Die?

Several members of the Council are making onsiderable capital of a fact which has just reached them and are railing at the Mayor in ery emphatic terms. The case which is nov sausing the disturbance is the appointment of Michael Doran as a regular member of the Fire Department, as which he is now drawing pay. Doran was appointed on July 9, and before and since that time has been driving the Mayor's carriage. He is detailed for that service, and is always subject to the call of the Mayor. He ranks as fireman at engine-house No. 28, on Vandeventer avenue and Morgan street. The Councilmen in questio say that the Mayor has no right under any existing law to put a man on the city pay roll and then use him for his own private pur-

Mayor Noonan was seen and explained the situation as follows: "I cannot afford to keep two vehicles and two horses as I am compelled to do because of the business of he office and, under the condition of the charter, the Chief Executive of the city should be provided with every facility to aid him is the discharge of his duty. Under the law for the Police Board, the commissioners can procure anything necessary for the execution of

I had a good driver. All the other city officials, who have mee for vehicles have the cost of maintaining them paid by the city. It so happens that I am the first Mayor who has not a fortune large enough to make me independent of such matters and I am compelled to adopt the measures I have. Doran is always ready to report to a fire should he be needed. I think that any one who is making an issue on a small matter like this has but little to do."

Because of Labor Day. To-morrow will be pay-day for all city em ployes instead of Monday. The first of the month is the usual day for the payment of salaries, but the 1st of September having been declared a holiday by the Mayor, and Sunday being always a holiday puts pay-day ahead just two days. The Mayor has formal-ity declared Labor day a municipal holiday, and the officials and their subordinates are making arrangements accordingly.

That Fence Again.

The fance around the site of the new City Hall is again causing trouble. This time th trouble is all on the hands of McNair & Far rish, who own the fence and rent space upon it for advertising purposes. Last night two men drove along the street in a buggy. They were armed with a large squirtigg an lack liquid mixture at the painted signs on the fence and disfiguring them as much as possible. They were seen by the watchman employed to guard the fence and were chassed some distance but succeeded in making their escape.

The signs are considerably damaged and some will have to be repainted. McNair & Farrish intend to offer a reward for the identification of the men who did the job.

Some time ago the fence was pasted over with bills by a disappointed rival, who did not get the advertising privilege, but he escaped and since then a watchman has been employed to prevent a repetition of tas same performance. The disappointed rival was too quick for the watchman, however, and did very successful work last night. rish, who own the fence and rent space upor

A Report Expected.

To-night the Council and House of Delegates will held their regular meetings. The Coun cil will probably near a report from the Com mittee on Public Improvements, Mr. Vogel mittee on Public Improvements, Mr. Vogel, Chairman, upon the subject or M. J. Murphy, nomines for Street Commissioner. The desire of those interested in the case from the Mayor's side is to to have the matter disposed of in some way or another by the Council so as to relieve the mayor of the necessity of again withdrawing the nomination. The Council is anxious to suspend action until next fall so as to head off the Mayor. There is but a short time now before adjournment and some pretty quick work must be done on both sides.

The Comptroller and Auditor were notifie by the Street Department that a fund of some $1,600 had reverted back to the city funds. That amount had been fixed by ordinance fo That amount had been fixed by ordinance for the improvement of Blair avenue from Grand avenue to Bissell street, the rest of the costsome $1,200—to be paid by the property owners. The property owners promised to come up wish their share, but falled to do so up to to-day. They took a cab at the door and were driven rapidly west.

Thinking something was wrong a reporter who had witnessed the proceeding called at 808 South Second street, and found it to be the Green Tree Hotel. The clerk, in answer to a query, said a young country couple had called at the hotel this morning, and the young man registered his name as H. G. Miller and wife from Quincy, Ill. They were given a front room and no questions were asked until half an hour after the couple had been in the hotel when the proprietor saw a telegram in the newspaper, in which the name of Henry G. Miller was mentioned as having run away from Keokuk, Io., with a lady named Caweron. The proprietor called the couple down stairs and questioned them. Miller said it was true that he was not married yet, but would be in the course of an hour. He said he was a brakeman up to about two years ago, when he met Miss Cameron at Ashton, Mo., while working on the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad. Her pay-nits objected to him on account of his reving life and he left the road and opened as youn. He said he now owns three saicons and is on a fair road to fame and fortune. The girl's parents still objected to him becames he was a salconkeeper, and tiring of trying to please them he decided to elops. The girl's father, he said, was immensely wealthy, "owned about $40,000 worth of isend and stock."

"I have traveled ever 1,250 miles with this young lady," he said, "and been arrested four times while out trying to get a license and marry her, but they could not hold me as they never had a warrant. I will travel 6,000 miles more to get a license, and if I can't get it here I will go to Utah. Just show me where to get a license and I will face the music and get married, even if they hang me for it."

He was told where to go for a license by the asked as she stepped in the cab. "I hope it won't take longer than one hour, it is so trying."

After they left the Recorder's office all trace of them was lost and up to 3 o'clock this after neen they had not returned to the Recorder's office to get the license waiting there for them, nor had they put in an appearance at the hotel.

He Drowns His Wife and Child to Marry Another Woman.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 29 .- During an examination of the case of Walter F. Horton, the lumber inspector of the Northern Pacific. daughter into the Mississippi, yesterday circumstances pointed strongly to foul play and recommended that Horton be held for th Grand-jury. A letter from a well-known St. Paul school teacher was found in Horton's trunk, which was addressed to "My Darling Walter." It contained this strange paragraph: "Am I 'crossing the bridge' too soon, darling, or is there something that gives this feeling of unrest that will develop to spoil our happiness?" our nappiness?"

Evidence was produced showing that Horton was proparing to get married to the young lady.

A SPORT ON THE RAMPAGE. He Foreibly Enters a Lady's Bed-Boom

and Brutally Beats Her. ASBURY PARK, N. J., Aug. 29 .- A Washington sport, who gives his name as Ed Jones, the owner of a string of running horses, created a sensation early Wednesday morning by fercing an entrance into the cottage of Mrs. Engard, corner of Heck street and Second avenue, and demanding to see one of the lady boarders. Upon a refusal to accede to lady boarders. Upon a refusal to accede to his demands, Jones became furiously violent and broke open three bed-rooms before discovering the object of his anger, who turned out to be a lady of highly reputable connections in Washington who has been summering here. The panel of the door opening into her room was mashed into splinters. Once in the room and in the presence of the lady Jones commenced a brutal attack upon her, blacking her eyes and otherwise ill treating her. The police were telephoned for, and before Jones could make his escape officers appeared and arrested him. The other ladies whose rooms were broken into became hysterical and are now laboring under seyere mental strain. The scandal occasioned by Jones' escapade is now the talk of the town. The lady whom Jones assaulted is a married woman and was forced to leave for home in a badly maimed condition on the early morning train, heavily veiled owing to the notoriety given the affair. The proprietress of the cottage is a most estamable lady and feels most keenly the disgrace occasioned by the fellow's brutal intrusion. After remaining in the lock-up half the night, the offender was taken to the office of Justice Wyckoff in the early morning hours and liberated upon paying a fine of life and coste. The assaulted lady and the proprietress both declined to prosecute, fearful of the scandal that would follow a further exposure. Jones was intoxicated at the time of the outrage. This he urges in pallisation of his conduct. Since the facts in the case leaked out, streamous efforts have been made by the interested parties to suppress publication of the details and every endeavor to secure the name of the desails and every endeavor to secure the name of the desails and every endeavor to secure the name of the desails and every endeavor to secure the name of the desails and every endeavor to secure the name of the his demands, Jones became furiously violent

A DESPERATE SUICIDE.

Henry Schnell Shoots Himself and Then

Rips Himself Open With a Knife. Shortly after 10 o'clock this morning residents and pedestrians in the vicinity of efferson avenue and Albion place saw an under-sized and poorly dressed old man standing on a vacant lot at the northeast of the junction. Suddenly the stranger drew an old fashioned muzzle-loading platel from his inside coat pocket, carefully raised the trigger, adjusted the cap and placed the weapon to his breast. One instant later a shot rang out and the man fell. No sooner was he down then he commenced to cut into his abdomen with a small pocket knife which he had in his left hand. The wound in his left hand. The wound in his breast was a fatai one, however, and before any person had reached his side the suicide had breathed his last. The pistol and knife iay by his side.

The deceased is supposed to be one Henry Schnoll. There was but one atticle found on his person which we'dl serve in any way as a mans of identification. This was a note addressed to Henry behnell and signed by his daughter, Mrs. Caroline Marcus, who is supposed to live at 1851 Scuth Eleventh street. Other articles consisted of a tobacco bag, a small pipe, several keys and match box. No money was found. The body is now at the Morque, awaiting positive identification. The deceased was about 63 years old and heavy in build. He has a short gray beard and is dressed in a suit of working clothes. The pistol used was in all probability charged with shot, and the contents of the weapon tore a hole some three inches in diameter in his chest. The weapon. the stranger drew an old fashioned Mining Stock Association for the purpose of checking the supposed maisdministration. Their spokesman was M. W. Fox, and he sent a letter to the Secretary of the Haie & Norcross Co., in which he says:

"I am informed, and believe, that the Haie & Norcross Co. and its stockholders have been systematically plundered for the last three years, and that the property stolen amounts to more than $2,000,000; also that the theft had been accomplished through a fraudulent conspiracy and combination between the directors of the company and the owners or lessees of the mills employed to mill ores extracted from the company's mine."

After detailing the methods of the swindle, Mr. Fox declares that he is prepared to prove his charge and demands that action be taken to compel the restitution of the property stolen. The case, if action is brought, will involve such men as Senator John P. Jones, W. S. Hobart, D. A. Mills and Alvinso Howard.

made a statement this morning in regard to Rev. Mysonheimer's interview in the morning paper. In this interview Rev. Mysonheimer states that he did not tell Mr. Bryan that the rebuke was premeditated, and that he had it in mind to avail himself of the first opportunity to publicly reprimand the young lady.

"I don't think," said Mr. Bryan, "that Rev. Mysonheimer bore any malice or fill-will against the lady. But he did tell me that he had noticed her actions for five-years, and had seen her deport herself in such way as to arouse his resentment when others were preaching and he in the congregation. It certainly was a very stinging rebuke, but I sincerely believe it was done with no thought other than a desire to impress her with the proper respect due the church and the service. Miss Waggener did cry after the service and was very much hurt as would be expected under the circumstances. I told her I would see Rev. Mysonheimer and did so. I told him that in my opinion his remark was uncalled for, and if Miss Waggener had been guilty of any offense he should have taken another time and opportunity to correct her. He replied, as I have said, that the lady had been guilty of similar actions before and that he had had it in mind to rebuke her if occasion offered. There is now, however, no discord between citter Rev. Mysonheimer and myself or in any way. My wife is at liberty to sing in the choir if she chooses to do so. No, I do not think Miss Waggener will be likely to sing there any longer, although I have not heard the lady so express herself. The question comes to my mind if Rev. Mysonheimer said as reported that he did not tell me he intended for some time to rebuke Miss Waggener, what am I?"

ON 'CHANGE. Grain and Flour,

Wheat—The "Art Club" and its followers this morning were again banging away as the market. They paid no attention to a strouger Chicago, to moderate receipts at the principal winter wheat points, to steadier English and firm French markets, to unsettled weather abroad and colder weather in the North, but they went in with that boid dash that carried them so often to victory when they were booming prices, and the lowest price seen in weeks was touched. This point was reached on a slump in Chicago and New York, those markets suddenly abandoning their strong positions and breaking off sharply. The buying it she pit was quiet and steady by many different brokers, which led some observers to believe that some good covering was going on. After the market had been broken down and rencipal the strong of the strong position was quiet and trangent of the market had been broken down and rencipal the strong of the strong only 15, 700 bu wheat from each profess and this had a repressive effect upon bhil speculation. Second far advices from other points caused something of a revulsion in popular feeling. Selling slackened and the demand increased, with the result that oppriess moved upward. Colder weather in the Northwest. There is a high barometer area in the Northwest danother working in there that may mean frost. It was not to be a suggest of the second of the sec Receipts of wheat at San Francisce to August 20 for the harvest year were about two-thirds of those for the same period in 1889, while those of flour are nearly the same. Reduced to wheat both wheat and flour show a failing of nearly occurs at the Latest official advices from the same of the s enustances the harvest had made much progress, so that the bulk of the wheat and barley is already secured, while the other cereals are maturing rapidly with the gr-at heat.

Dornbusch of August 15 eays: "Various causes combine to stimulate the speculative demand for corn, principally the prospects of a reduced crop in America and the Danubian Provinces, aided by reports more or less serious of the damage caused to the potato crop in Ireland by long continued wet and nuscessonable weather. Under these circumstances quite was and the Danubian Provinces, aided by reports more or less serious of the damage caused to the potato crop in Ireland by long continued wet and nuscessonable weather. Under these circumstances quite was not and the less sentices, and the state of the control of the corn has fallen to 73 from 93 in July—the cause of this decline is the insufficiency of rain and the abnormally high temperature which prevailed recently in the principal corn-growing states. In Hungary the corn crop is disappointing and sellers are reserved. In Roumania early expectations are diminished contracts and shippers ease more inclined to buy than to sell at prevent."

James W. Bush, an emilent commercial writer of London, says: Estimates of the world's wheat production are, of course, of little real use until we know what the world requires—its actual consumption, in fact. We know appreximately what the leading countries, such as America, France, England, Germany and Italy consume, and we can make at fair guess at Russia's and India's home wants, but the requirements of the remaining countries are naturally more difficult to estimate. It does not appear to me successary in this abort paper to give actually for Eurepean and hone European countries as being probably as nearly correct as possible:

active and in large quantities, the market showing decided never seasons. The little strength of decided never seasons are action after a 5c break and we think that the liquidation will continue on all hard spots, as the bulls at high prices are losing confidence. Early cables were easier, but those received later indicated a somewhat better tone.

The corn market has been erratic and at times wild. Prices opened higher on colder weather, but buyers were met with large offerings of long corn in excess of the damand, breaking the market about a cent. The sudden reaction which followed was on talk of a cold wave. Both buils and bears run quickly. Unless we get unfavorable weather were the west was and ling on builses. Both built and bears run quickly. Unless we get unfavorable weather were weak and ling on builses. Can which price shorts became on the market and met very few buyers until January reached 5.75c, as which price shorts became purchasers.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

Chicago Market Letter.

Private Wire to J. P. Grier.

Chicago, Aug. 29.—Firther liquidation of long wheat carried prices 2c lower than those at the opening. Near the bottom there was excellent buying by some of the late successful buils on reports or foreign saies of both wheat and figure at advances, and with the belief that most, if not all of the pyramid wheat had been sharen out. One of large local operators was a free seller of wheat at bottom, said to have been bought at much higher prices. We incluir to the belief that wheats has seen bottom price to-day for some time and that purchases should be made on any weakness.

Corn ruled firm on reports of color weather and closed near the top. Recipitability probably show a fair increase, as the troubles are about over and we incline to sell on builges. I A local operator sold lard and ribs, which held the market down. There was fair buying of both, however, and closed firm, We believe in the outcome of the January product.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING.

Mr, Brady Gets Excited Over the Expendi ture for Fernaces.

At the meeting of the School Board yester first time in the last three meetings. Those present were: Messrs. Bannermann, Barstow, Brady, Bus, Cudmore, Kelly, O'Connell, Richardson, Sheahan and President Miller. After the reading of the special call. Mr. Richardson read the Teachers Committee report on Mr. Murphy's appointment as Third Assistant Superintendent of Public Schools. It was unanimously adopted. Mr. Barstew read the Ways and Means Committee report recommending an appropriation of $5.100 from the Building Fund for the heating of Carr Lane School. The report was carried unanimously, but the discussion theron roused Mr. Brady, who waxed wroth at what he termed useless expenditure of the people's money. He made a motion to lay the matter over until a larger attendance of the Board but it was lost. Mr. O'Connell stated that the present furnaces had been used for twenty-one years and were in bad condition. Mr. O'Connor moved the adoption of the report, which was carried. Mr. Richardson read the Teachers Committee

A Desperate Negro Captured.

William Simms, a negro of desperate char acter, who is wanted for cutting Thomas Bowman, another negro, in a dispute over game of craps, was captured on the level sterday afternoon by Detective Race and taken to the Four Courts. Bowman was literally backed to pieces, but made a wonderful recovery. Simms left immediately after the cutting. He also endeavored to hold up and rob Harry Brolaski some time ago, but Brolaski pulled a revolver and shot him, laying him up at the City Hospital for several weeks.

St. Louis Spanish Club Organized.

A meeting of the St. Louis Spanish Club was held last evening in the reading-rooms o the Merchants' Exchange for the purpose o the Merchants' Exchange for the purpose of forming a permanent organization. Eagene W. Quillin presented a constitution which was adopted. A committee to secure rooms and provide furniture and other necessaries was provided. An entrance fee of $5 and monthly dues of $1 were fixed upon. Many other subjects of interest were discussed. There is a growing interest in the welfare of the club displayed. The meeting adjourned to meet at the same place Saturday, September 6.

Fired Right at Him.

Robert Morris, a bartender, walked into Martin's saloon, corner Sixth and Market, at 9 o'clock last night and without a word of warning drew a revolver and fired at Rudolph Wagoner, the barkeeper, without, however, injuring him. The cause of the shooting was that Wagoner a few nights since ejected a friend of Morris. The latter was arrested and a charge of assault to kill placed against him. A Grand Old Home,

Notice!! To Whom It May Concern.

The rapid manner in which lots are being sold at Oak Hill Place has prompted us to establish an office on the ground for the convenience of purchasers. The terms upon which the lots are sold, being only $50 cash and $10 per month, give every one an opportunity to secure a home site or a real estate investment where property is bound to rapidly increase in value. Oak Hill Place is located on the south side of Tower Grove Park, midway between Grand Avenue and King's Highway: the Pine Street Electric Cars go direct to the property every three minutes. The prices placed on the property range from $10 to $16 per foot, and as it is high, healthy, well drained, and contiguous to city water and electric lights, it is unquestionably the cheapest and best property in the city for the money.

Our branch office is located on the northwest corner of Arsenal street and Morgan Ford road (Arsenal street is the southern boundary line of Tower Grove Park and the street on which the Pine street electric cars run), where our representative can be found every day until September 1, from 10 a. m. to 6:30 o'clock p. m.
